

Aado Kommendant

Born: 9 August 1941 – 8 August 1966

(aged 24)

Major Kommendant was a member of the 557th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Cam Ranh Bay Airbase, South Vietnam. On August 8, 1966, he was the navigator of a McDonnell Douglas Phantom II Fighter (F-4C) on a close support mission over South Vietnam. Shortly after the second bomb run on enemy troops, his aircraft was hit and exploded.
