

William Matthews Jackson, Class of 1937.

Plane Crash Injuries Prove Fatal to Memphian

William M. Jackson, one of the prominent Memphis residents killed in a plane crash at New Orleans last week, was the husband of the former Ann Creamer, a niece of Mrs. A. B. Middleton, Sr. Mrs. Jackson's mother was the former Eva Forsythe of Brookhaven, a sister of Mrs. Middleton.

Mr. Jackson, 49, had planned this trip, which ended so tragically, for many weeks. He was the head of Travel Associates, which organized the flight for sportsmen.